

REMARKS

Claims 1-20 are pending in the application. Claims 1-3, 5-7, 9-11, 13, and 15-20 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 7,146,640 issued to Goodman et al. Claims 8 and 14 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goodman. Claims 1-9 and 19-20 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101 as directed to non-statutory subject matter. Applicants respectfully traverse. However, to bring the present application to issuance without delay, Applicants have canceled Claims 1-9 and 19-20. Applicants respectfully request reconsideration and full allowance of all of pending Claims 10-18.

Goodman discloses an intrusion security system that uses separate operating systems to run an information handling system.

Claim 10 recites, in part, “extracting an update file from an operating system update.”

Goodman cannot anticipate Claim 10 because Goodman fails to teach, disclose or suggest all elements recited by Claim 10. For example, Goodman fails to teach, disclose or suggest “extracting an update file from an operating system update” as recited by Claim 10. The Examiner relies upon column 13 §3.1 and col. 8, lines 15-32 for the rejection of Claim 10. Nothing in those sections discusses extracting an update file. The Examiner’s comments about replacement of the primary OS of Goodman with the secondary OS are not understood or supported by the text of Goodman. Indeed, Goodman teaches that the secondary OS is kept separate from the primary OS to provide computer security (see e.g., col. 3, lines 31-38). Accordingly, Applicants respectfully request that the Examiner withdraw the rejections based on Goodman and allow all pending claims.

CONCLUSION

In view of the amendments and remarks set forth herein, the application is believed to be in condition for allowance and a notice to that effect is solicited. Nonetheless, should any issues remain that might be subject to resolution through a telephonic interview, the examiner is requested to telephone the undersigned.

The Commissioner is authorized to deduct any additional fees which may be necessary and to credit any overpayment to Deposit Account No. 502264.

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being electronically submitted to the COMMISSIONER FOR PATENTS via EFS on September 28, 2007.
